

SYSTEMATIC EXPLICIT PHONICS INTEGRATED with HANDWRITING and SPELLING

Johnny Can Spell / Write with ALICE NINE hosted by THE WRITING ACADEMY
SEPTEMBER 23-24, 2008

PUT READING AND WRITING FIRST WITH

Johnny Can Spell / Write

an instructional approach that addresses both encoding and decoding skills through integrated phonics, handwriting, spelling, and word analysis instruction

Participants will learn how to

- Expand phonemic awareness to spelling
- Link explicit phonics instruction with handwriting for multi-sensory applications
- Systematically apply sound-spelling relationships to high frequency words
- Present entire code—70 Orton phonograms with spelling rules
- Bridge phonics to writing
- Teach students how to sound out words for both reading and writing
- How to use direct instruction without disturbing the dynamics of readers' / writers' workshop
- Adapt instruction for different grade levels
- Use spiraling review strategies
- Obtain student mastery through application, not just rote drill

READ WHAT TEACHERS ARE SAYING

"Attending Alice Nine's training revolutionized my classroom. All my second graders leave as solid readers."

"My teaching has changed altogether since the [JCSpell] workshop. I now have the tools to adequately teach all students how to read and spell, even language deficient ones and low achievers."

"The phonological approach of JCSpell creates a more level playing field for all children. Regardless of background, each child is taught a method that allows him to read more fluently."

"I'm surprised at how simple lessons in phonics can go a long way with students."

"Using Johnny Can Spell has given my bilingual students a system to decipher and decode words that they could never have done before. My 5th grade students have gone from never passing a spelling test in the regular classroom to making A's most of the time."

"Wow! Phonics finally makes sense to me. I have learned so much in these two days. Thank you, Alice Nine!"

Content and strategies of Johnny Can Spell / Write align with scientifically-based research for best practices and as set forth by the National Reading Panel.

MEET ALICE NINE

With a tenacious focus on literacy, for more than twenty years, Alice Nine—a teacher of teachers—has shared her knowledge and skills with thousands of educators and parents, nationally and internationally.

Sharing knowledge and modeling student-engaging strategies are central goals of her staff development. Practical and filled with tidbits from reservoirs of knowledge and firsthand experiences as a teacher and administrator, Alice's training events are dynamic and hands-on. Some are workshops, teachers working with teachers; others are practicums in real-world classrooms.

Teachers leave her trainings not only inspired, but also equipped to make a greater contribution to excellence in education.

Alice Nine, creator of Johnny Can Spell-Write, has authored fourteen instructional manuals for teachers. Her materials, used by kindergarten through high school teachers, parents, and tutors, have sold in every state and on six continents.

Alice resides with her husband in Portland, Oregon, surrounded by their children and a dozen grandchildren.

Reading interactive books online.

TO ORDER CLASSROOM INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS
